Mauritius

Basking in splendid isolation in the warm Indian Ocean, Mauritius with its virgin beaches is embraced by coral reefs in translucent waters providing safe swimming in its lagoons. The powder soft sands are fringed with coconut palms, whilst the fertile volcanic soil supports lush vegetation and abundant fruit. This island paradise offers unbeatable water based activities, including scuba diving, snorkelling and big game fishing. View a wide variety of marine life from a glass bottomed boat or a huge range of sea treasures in a submarine. The climate is hot and wet from December to April with average temperatures up to 30C whilst May to November is cool and dry averaging 24C making Mauritius an ideal year round destination. During the day you can visit the Pamplemousses Royal Botanical Gardens or the market stalls in Port Louis, the capital, whilst at night sample excellent cuisine that is a fusion of Mauritian, International and Creole. Inland picturesque mountains, gorges, extinct volcano craters, and spectacular waterfalls, combine to make this a truly unique island.
